

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A tribological fiber composite component especially in the form of a brake disk or clutch disk, having a structure that encompasses at least one TFP preform (60, 62) which is provided with at least one stressable layer of reinforcement fibers. The structure is stabilized by separating material from the gas phase and/or is provided with a monomer and/or a polymer, is hardened and pyrolyzed.